This publication is the Sixth Annual Crime in New Hampshire Report. Statistics gathered during 1982 by the Uniform Crime Reporting Program are reflected in the contents. It is certainly pleasing to note that reported serious crime was significantly reduced in 1982 as compared to 1981. Major crime for New Hampshire declined 11% in 1982 when nationally the same crimes dropped 4%.

While the crime statistics herein contained are newsworthy and generate public interest, perhaps more importantly these statistics allow criminal justice administrators and members of the law enforcement community to improve their focus on crime. Additionally, elected officials and public servants often require reliable crime data to fulfill their mandated responsibilities. Accurate crime statistics are also a key element to aid valuable planning and research.

Without the dedication of the contributing police agencies in providing the criminal data on a timely basis, the manual would not appear as it does today. In turn, the information gathered in New Hampshire then becomes part of the overall national crime figures. This tends to illustrate a cooperation among the police departments of New Hampshire toward the common goal of reducing crime in our state and nation.

DOMESTIC ASSAULT

In 1979, the General Court mandated the Director of State Police to present an annual report to them concerning the nature and extent of domestic violence in our state. It was decided to collect this data in conjunction with the UCR program by adding a relationship category to the information collected in assaults. The following chart indicates the relationship of the offender to the victim along with the type of weapon used in aggravated assaults and the number of simple assaults for 1982:
